Lily Organics says “Happy New Year”
By Helping you Keep your New Year’s Resolutions

Henderson, CO – A new year, for most, means new resolutions. These resolutions often include; lose weight, get healthy, go green and de-stress, just to name a few. Some people will follow through, but a majority will find some reason or another to not keep up with their resolution throughout the year. Lily Organics makes keeping up with your resolutions to get healthy, de-stress and go green, all easy ones.

Lily Organics Fresh Skin Care; the only company on planet Earth to grow its own ingredients on their own USDA Certified Organic farm and make fresh products weekly in their own USDA Certified Organic lab; helps you maintain your resolutions throughout the year. Changing your skin care regimen to an organic one can assist you in achieving healthy skin, by knowing which ingredients are going into your products. You can do this, all while maintaining a green lifestyle.

Lily’s entire product line is made from all-natural ingredients, offered in the form of cleansers, toners and moisturizers. Lily Organics never uses any synthetic chemicals in any of its products, so you can be sure you are keeping your body healthy while maintaining beautiful skin. “The freshest ingredients make the freshest skin,” claims Lily Morgan, Founder and Formulator, Lily Organics.

Being green has been a way of life for Lily Organics since 1986, before being green was considered hip. All products are created using very little waste and handcrafted in small batches each week. They are then packaged in 100% recyclable glass, in its USDA Certified Organic lab in Henderson, CO, and shipped to the customer. These products are truly ‘Seed to Shelf.’

Some people enjoy visiting the spa to de-stress, which can be costly, time-consuming and an inconvenience. Lily Organics offers an at-home HomeSpa for $33.59 to take care of these issues. This 2-hour ‘get-away’ is the perfect answer to anyone who wants to de-stress, without the hassle of leaving your home. It includes everything you need to help you relax, reflect and re-energize.
